

JULIO LAPORTA, Head of Service, Legal Practice (ICLAD), OHIM, ES

Julio Laporta has a Law degree from the University of Alicante, Spain, and an LLM in IP Law (Magister Lucentivus, Spain).

Before joining OHIM, he worked in the private sector, first as a lawyer in the firm Durán Corretjer (Barcelona, Spain) and, then, as an in-house lawyer in the legal department of Danone, S.A (Barcelona, Spain).

He joined OHIM in 2000 as an examiner and in this role he defended the Office before the Courts in Luxembourg.

He is now Head of the Legal Practice Service; his team maintains OHIM's case law databases, updates OHIM's practice on trade marks and designs by constantly revising OHIM's Guidelines for examination and runs the ex-post quality check system of OHIM's core business activities.

He regularly lectures at various Universities and Business Schools on IP-related topics.
